Energy Performance Certification in Scotland Workshop Reduced Data SAP – Amendments 2011

This course consists of a day of training. As members of a protocol scheme, it will be assumed that candidates will be familiar with the process of data collection and data entry within their chosen scheme.

This will be suitable for self-certification; all those attending will receive a certificate confirming 3/6 hours of CPD

Aimed at members of any of the registered Energy Performance Certificate (EPC) protocol schemes in Scotland, this course will update candidates on all the changes to the RdSAP methodology that are scheduled to come into effect in April 2011. The course consists of information sessions and also practical demonstrations of the impact of the changes to the calculation methodology. It will be essential for all active EPC assessors to understand the changes that will be made to the software packages that generate the EPC.

In addition to the changes in the calculation methodology, there will be some changes to the way that EPCs are presented in Scotland. This will continue to be different from the way that EPCs are presented in England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

After successful completion of the course, candidates will be equipped to implement changes within their protocol scheme and continue to provide an up to date quality service to their clients.

The workshop is split between an information session in the morning and practical sessions in the afternoon; candidates can choose between morning only or the full day.

Courses will be run in the following locations across Scotland.

Location	Date
Glasgow	19 th April 2011
Livingston	20 th April 2011
Inverness	21 st April 2011

A light buffet lunch will be provided for all those attending.

Early booking is essential as places will be limited.

Costs:

Morning only	£100 + VAT
Full day	£250 + VAT (bulk discounts are available)
